Observations... By the Editor

The spirit of cooperation and the urge to help your fellowman in distress is being truly exemplified by the disaster committee of the American Red Cross, and the many volunteers offering their assistance, at this time of apparent danger to the Coast section of Hancock County, from the hurricane approaching our shores . . . This is a splendid gesture of real charity—love of your neighbor . . . In the event disaster strikes us, please cooperate with the members of the Disaster Committee. You will be affording them much assistance in this manner. They are organized and have a well defined plan outlined.

The alarm Sunday afternoon was for a fire which started on the Bay St. Louis bridge, near the approach to the Bay St. Louis side. They say it will take about two years to build the "Monument to Political Indifference" which is to span the Bay of St. Louis, and in the meantime the dilapidated condition of the bridge and fires are continual menace, and we have serious doubt if continued heavy traffic can be allowed over the present structure and have it last.

We don't want our friend, Chance Cole, to think we have forgotten the changing of the postal routes from Picayune and Perkinston to Bay St. Louis, Kiln and Logtown. It is hard for us to get our mind on anything other than the hurricane, and when this has passed, we will again center our efforts in attempting to do what Chance says we can't do . . . Well, Chance, if the hurricane doesn't wash us away, we hope to be with you again next week . . . bearing down just a little heavier and with a little more cooperation from our folks to do a job so sorely needed to help redintify Hancock County . . .

The youngsters will be headed back to school next week . . . Gee, the summer months have just flown by, and we sorta feel like the kids, just hate to see school days ahead. You boys and girls should receive much consolation in the thought that these are your happiest days, and we grown folks are not kidding you when we tell you this. In Bay St. Louis you have all the opportunities to receive an education. There are few cities the size of Bay St. Louis, with the number of accredited high schools we have—St. Stanislaus, St. Joseph, Bay High School, St. Rose de Lima and the Valena C. Jones High School.

Osbourns Seriously Injured Saturday FLASH!

Edward Osbourn and his wife, Edna Tomash Osbourn, were seriously injured in an automobile accident, Saturday, August 26, at 5:30 p.m. when a Keesler Field bus struck the pick up truck in which the Osbourns were riding, Deputy Sheriff Paul Egloff stated.

The bus driven by Sergeant Fred Harvey of Keesler Air Force Base, was headed toward the West, and Mr. Osbourn was driving East. As the bus rounded the curve on Old Highway 90, just beyond Washington Street, the collision occurred.

The two injured occupants of the truck were brought to the Kings Daughters hospital by Fahey's ambulance and later transferred to the Baptist Hospital in New Orleans.

Mrs. Osbourn suffered a broken leg, arm lacerations and internal injuries. Last reports were to the effect that she had responded to treatment and was showing slight improvement. Her husband, who suffered a broken leg, body injuries and a possible chest injury, at this writing, is still in a coma and his condition remains undetermined, it was said.

Sgt. Harvey was charged with reckless driving. Deputy Egloff stated. According to Sheriff B. D. Johnson, he was released at 10:00 p.m. Saturday. The two occupants of the bus, other than the driver, escaped injury.

The Keesler Field bus had come to Bay St. Louis to meet the girls who attend the dances at the base on Saturday nights. They were enroute to Waveland, as they had arrived in Bay St. Louis earlier than usual, to pick up the girls from there.

THE JITTERS

Ever have the jitters? Well we have them this morning. Trying to think about what our editorial subject should be and with our mind as far removed from the subject of writing as it could possibly be. We have only one subject on our mind—The Hurricane—and we are no different than any other resident of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

As we sit at our desk looking out to the east at the vast expanse of water—the Mississippi Sound—the rising tide, an occasional puff of wind, memories roll back to September 19, 1947. Today we are faced with another storm; the forecasters tell us it is still some distance away, but headed in this direction. Preparedness is the watchword. Our people are on the alert and justly so. The 1947 hurricane really caught us napping; the physical factors did not bear out the forecast in the opinion of many of the people of our section. Today the situation appears a bit different, the stormy outlook is with us, as we are making ready to face what may come.

The Disaster Committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross has been in session. It is completely organized to cope with the situation. In the event of a disaster enlist their aid, and too, offer them your assistance if it is possible for you to give any, but above all, please follow their instructions, this will probably be the greatest assistance you can offer.

—The bridegroom had as his escort his brother, Bernard Christian, of Hattiesburg and Mississippi Southern College.

—The youthful bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a model navy blue suit with belted coat and high collar held in place by a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her slippers and gloves were of navy blue kid. She wore a designed navy velvet toque edged with two rows of velvet discs centered with rhinestones; the entire effect was softened by a matching veil. For something old, she carried a rose point lace handkerchief used by her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Weatherford of Laurel, at her wedding. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of fleur d'amour and tube roses, centered with a white purple throated oriole and attached to a small white Bible with trailing satin streamers.

—During the reception that followed, Mrs. Tom S. Adams and Mrs. J. B. Weatherford presided at the crystal punch bowl and finished serving the wedding cake, which had been cut by the bridal couple.

—Misses Barbara Taylor of Gulfport, Ann Wharton, and Mrs. Alwell Atkins, Columbus, served as tea girls, while Miss Adele Bielberg presided over the bride's register. All of the assistants were wearing afternoon dresses with crescents of fleur d'amour in their hair.

—The bride's table was covered with an imported silk linen cloth draped with white silk maline caught up at intervals with roses of sweetheart roses. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, decorated in white roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom and lilies of the valley. The cake was flanked on either side by lighted white tapers in handsome crystal candleabra and two white doves nestled in the geraniums encircling the cake. Giant white gladioli and fern were arranged throughout the reception rooms.

—Later in the evening the couple departed for a wedding trip to points of interest in Florida. The

Homemakers Prepare Over 1000 Meals A Year

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

The preparation of over 1000 meals a year consumes more time and energy than any of her other tasks. It is vital to her health, comfort and convenience that kitchen equipment be arranged to reduce daily mileage.

Today's homemaker wants order and system in her kitchen cabinets. She wants everything in reach to simplify her job. She wants to avoid needless trips to the pantry or other storage places. This means she must have the right amount of work surface and cabinet space at each of the three essential work centers—the mixing and cleaning center; the cooking center and the serving center.

Work will flow in a natural sequence if the homemaker travels in a step-saving triangle when preparing meals. In the well-planned kitchen it will not be necessary to shift food material and equipment from one corner of the kitchen to another.

In the poorly-planned kitchen the work surfaces are frequently broken by improperly placed doors and windows, the hook, the home freezer, or the washing machine which have to be dodged in meal preparation.

Each homemaker has her own ideas for the details of the inside arrangement of her cabinet shelves and drawers. Her first step in improving her kitchen would be to weed out all articles she never uses and then group together all those she generally uses for the same job. They should be so arranged that she need not move or lift one to reach another article.

The four common types of kitchens are the U, the L, the two-wall and the separate unit kitchen.

A "U" kitchen 8 to 9 feet wide usually provides more wall space than any other type for cabinets and equipment which can be arranged to require less mileage for the homemaker.

The sink is located at the center of the "U", the range along the left arm and the mixing center along the right arm is the ideal arrangement. A work table on rollers will help reduce mileage, if the distance between the arms of the "U" is more than 9 feet.

The mixing center is planned around the refrigerator. The center also includes a work surface and cabinet storage for food, materials and equipment needed in food preparation. The work sur-

Timber Products Are Chief Income Sources

Timber products are one of the chief sources of income to Mississippians. About one-fifth of the timber cut is in the form of fuel wood, fence posts, and other domestic items. The rest of the timber cut is principally for commercial use and goes to concentration points and plants.

Most of the timber processed or consumed within the state is obtained locally. Sawmills get 74 percent of their logs, cooperage plants get 61 percent of their timber, and veneer plants get 44 percent of their logs from local counties.

But a substantial volume of timber is hauled longer distances to plants, particularly pulpwood. Pulp mills draw 49 percent of their wood from a radius of 50 miles.

The above facts are presented by Area Ranger C. L. Leonard, of the Mississippi Forest Service in summarizing the recent release of the Southern Forest Experiment Station on the subject "Mississippi's Forest Industry."

In discussing this report Ranger Leonard pointed to the conclusions reached in the study:

"Mississippi's forest-products industries are based on a declining resource, and since the beginning of World War II, there has been no falling off in total raw timber output. The volume of total timber cut has been sustained primarily by an increase in pulpwood production and by industry adjustments in the utilization of other products. One important adjustment has been a gradual shift in principally lumber and some pulpwood production from softwood species to the more plentiful hardwoods.

"In view of the changes in the forest resource the prospect for sustaining timber output for most products at recent levels is doubtful. Only through immediate and considerable improvements in forest management and by further adjustments in utilization can the forest industry hope to sustain timber production at the levels of recent years."

Local Boys To Enroll In Advanced ROTC

Mississippi State College juniors and seniors who are expected to enroll in advanced ROTC at the beginning of the fall semester were listed by Major Robert R. Taylor, Jr., assistant professor of military science.

These men will be exempted from the draft, including service in National Guard Units that may be called to active duty, according to Major Taylor.

Those from this county expected to enroll are Ray R. Moran, infantry senior, of Kiln; James C. McDonald, air force administration senior, and Charles N. Kiefer, air force armament senior, both of Bay St. Louis.

WEEKEND GUESTS OF HAVA

Miss Betty Lynn Hava, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hava, had as her guests over the weekend, Misses Pat Rupp, Jeanette Waggespack, Barbara Linderman, Joan Kern, and Lee Elorriga, Carl Meyers, Larry Higgins, Curtis Waggespack, Stanley Hamilton, Chris Billec and Fred Durocher.

Authorize Local Boards To Defer Certain Students

Organized Protection Against Fire Pays

Selective Service Headquarters has authorized Local Boards of Selective Service System to defer certain college students. C. W. Patton, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi, invites the attention of college students to these qualifications which must be met for the board to consider deferment.

1. The registrant has completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning.

2. The college or university at which the registrant last completed an academic year of a full-time course of instruction certifies that the registrant's scholastic standing placed him among the upper half of his class.

3. The local board is satisfied by the record of the registrant's actions in making normally required arrangements that he had fully intended prior to August 1, 1950, to enroll in a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning for the academic year ending in the Spring of 1951.

Referring to students who are just entering college, or ones who have not stood in the first half of their class, those students who have actually entered and while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at a college, university, or similar institution of learning, are ordered to report for induction after the beginning and prior to the end of an academic year shall, upon the facts being presented to the local board, have their induction postponed.

(1) until the end of such academic year, or

(2) until they cease satisfactorily to pursue such course of instruction, whichever is earlier.

Commenting on the state's forest fire record, AFPI forester J. C. McClellan called for intensified forest fire prevention efforts.

"The Keep Green Program, now active in Mississippi and 27 other states, provides an effective vehicle for citizens interested in combating forest fire losses. All Americans," Mr. McClellan continued, "must be made aware of the importance of fire prevention. Every wood fire that burns destroys resources this country needs to remain strong and prosperous."

The AFPI forester stressed the need for full public support of federal and state fire control agencies. He called for continued cooperation between industry, the public and woodland owners in preventing fire.

LEAVE FOR HOME IN MICHIGAN

Mrs. Robert J. Fitzgibbons and children, Robert and Mary Patricia, left Wednesday for their home in Iron Mountain, Michigan. They spent two and a half weeks here visiting Mrs. Fitzgibbons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ryan and her aunts, Miss Louise Armstrong and Mrs. Marie Bordages.

Pearl River Jr. College 1950-51 Session Starts

The 1950-51 session at Pearl River College will get underway at 8:30 on September 4 when high school students and college sophomores are scheduled to begin registering, according to R. D. McLendon, president of the college.

College freshmen will report to the library at 9:30, Sept. 4, for placement tests and counseling. Actual registration of freshmen will begin at 8:30 on Sept. 5.

Classwork will begin Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 8:30.

Prior to the actual opening of school a preliminary faculty meeting will be held at 8:30 Sept. 2.

All dormitories will open September 3.

By: Mrs. F. J. Trastour

Friday afternoon there were two races, for the Juniors and Skipperettes and the results were:

Junior race: Larry Scharff, Jr., LeCorgne, Ray Stieffel and Oliver Dabiez, Jr.

Skipperette Race: Evie Socola, Yvonne Claiborne, L. Mestayer and Ann Mestayer.

Saturday morning the Juniors and Skipperettes raced the Juniors and defeated the girls:

Larry Scharff, Henry Chapman, June Breath and Virginia Seal.

Saturday afternoon brought to a close the Lightning Series Races.

The Diamond Lil, with her skipper, John McDonald, crossed the finish line first for a total of nine times out of twelve races, with two seconds and one third place, putting the Diamond Lil first in the series of races, with the Valenta, owned by Evie Socola, in second place; and The Rebel, owned by "Sonny" Wolfe, third place. Saturday results were:

Diamond Lil, John McDonald;

Disturbance, H. A. Thompson, Jr.; Volenta, Evie Socola; Rebel, Sonny Wolfe; Metoya, June Breath; Careless, Jack Bell and No Name, Roland Mestayer.

Saturday afternoon's Senior Fish Class Race results were: Senior Race: Glen Coward, Henry Chapman and George Hammeth.

Ernest Erwin was disabled and could not finish the race.

Sunday morning's Senior Race contestants were Bill Baltar, Lary Laroux, Charlie Breath and Julian Lorenzen.

Sunday afternoon's Junior Fish

Class Race entries and winners were: Shelby Tucker, Jr., John Henry Weston, C. Friedrichs and C. Fayard.

The feature of the afternoon was the Cock of the Walk: Fish Class Race for the four Lipton Series contenders.

C. McDonald, Jr., was the winner with Arthur Wynn, second; Louis Koerner, third, and David McDonald, fourth.

Another feature attraction of the day was the Lightning Skipperette race which finished with Virginia Seal sailing the J. McDonald's Diamond Lil; Evie Socola, sailing the Socola boat, Volenta; Marc Jane Green, sailing Sonny Wolfe's Rebel; Mrs. H. Thompson sailing the Thompson boat, Disturbance; Mrs. J. Bell sailing the Bell boat, Careless; June Breath sailing the Breath boat, Metoya; and Ann Mestayer sailing the Mestayer boat.

In the Handicap Class Race between Jennings' Sound Interclub Sloop and Charlie Breath's

Thistle, Commander Jennings won by a small margin.

The last race of the day was a Fish Class B race which finished with Jimmy McDonald in the lead followed by Paul De Blanc and Paul Porter.

There were only three boats in this race as one was disabled.

The club scheduled races for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, with trophies given for the Monday races.

The Lightning Race scheduled for 2:30 Sunday, September 3rd, will be a Handicap Race, with

Appoint New Secretary
Of Baptist Foundation

Dr. Harry Lee Spencer, a native of Carroll County, has accepted the position of Secretary of the Mississippi Baptist Foundation of the Mississippi Baptist Convention. He succeeds Dr. B. C. Land, who resigned in 1949 to devote his full time to the stewardship evangelism. Dr. Spencer is pastor of the First Church of Brownwood, Texas, and will assume his new duties on September 1.

Dr. Spencer was licensed and ordained at Coila Church in Carroll County. After attending Mississippi College for two years, he received the B. A. degree from Baylor University, the Th. M. and Th. D. degrees from Southwestern Seminary and in 1940 he received the D. D. degree from Howard Payne College.

Before going to the Brownwood pastorate, Dr. Spencer was pastored at College Avenue Church in Fort Worth and First Church, Benville, Texas. He went from the pastorate of the Immanuel Church, Hattiesburg, to the College Avenue Church in 1935, and to Brownwood in 1943.

During the fall of 1949 when the price of seed was approximately $20 per ton below cottonseed meal, an experiment was deemed worth while to determine the comparative value of the two supplements when fed in limited amounts to steers and cows being roughed through the winter.

Twenty-eight weaned steer calves, weighing approximately 400 pounds each, were divided uniformly into two groups. One group received an average of 10.3 pounds of medium quality Johnson grass hay plus one pound of cottonseed meal per day while the other group received 9.8 pounds of hay and one pound of whole cottonseed. After 58 days on test it was found that the hay-meal fed calves had gained 63 pounds while the hay-seed calves had gained 65 pounds. The seed-fed steers gained very uniformly throughout the period and appeared to have glossier hair coats and to be in a thrifter condition.

All steers were valued at the beginning of the experiment at $21 per hundred weight and at the end at $23, based on similar steers sold locally at each period. Cost of wintering was $6.47 for the meal-fed calves and $5.68 for those receiving seed. A net profit of $16.20 per head was realized on the former group and $17.49 for the latter.

Two groups of 25 bred beef cows were fed a ration of 10 lbs. silage, 7 pounds of Johnson grass hay and a supplement of 1 pound of seed to one group and 1 pound meat to the other. During a two-month wintering period with all conditions equal except the supplement, the cows did equally as well on the seed supplemented ration as they did on cottonseed meal. It should be noted that the seed was fed at the rate of one pound per cow per day, which seems to be ample, and that large amounts of seed may be conducive to digestive troubles.

With the country again fighting a war the need for finding more oil reserves becomes more important and the search for new producing horizons could well see a drill bit punching to 4 miles below the surface.

With the way things are going, it could happen here—in Mississippi!

COTTONSEED USED
INSTEAD OF MEAL
IN WINTER FEEDING

Experiment Shows Seed May Replace Meal in Limited Amounts
Although Oil May Cause Trouble In Heavier Feeding of Seed

State College, Miss.—Cottonseed fed in limited quantities proved to be a satisfactory substitute for cottonseed meal in tests at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station last winter. Lindsey H. Horn, of the animal husbandry staff, in publishing the report, warns that the same results may not be obtained if an excessive amount of seed is fed, due to the high oil content of the seed.

Going the other way, looking for oil three and a half miles below the earth's surface is considered mighty deep drilling.

Currently being drilled in south

Mississippi is a wildcat well now below 18,000 feet in search of crude oil, the life blood of the Nation. The wildcat is the Tung

Oil Corporation No. 1, Sec. 9-2S-

11W., northeast of Wiggins in Stone County, and it is the third deepest test drilled in the world.

Only two other wildcats have ceeded the 18,000 foot level—one in California, and another in Wyoming. The Wyoming test, drilled by Superior Oil Company, was abandoned as dry at a depth below 20,000 feet, which is the world's record.

GETTING TO BE A HABIT

Deep drilling is getting to be a habit in the southern part of the state for Mississippi's expanding oil and gas industry. A few years ago Superior Oil Company drilled its Cassiar Bradford No.

to a depth of 15,732 feet. The Superior try was located just south of the Hattiesburg city limits

Forest County, and encountered several oil shows below 12,000 feet, but was abandoned as dry after testing proved the shows to be non-commercial.

In the adjoining county of Jones

Gulf Refining Company drilled its L. L. Major No. 1 at Overt to about 13,000 feet, and eventually completed it as a small pumping well from oil sands at 13,000 feet. The Gulf well is the deepest producing oil well in Mississippi, and is thought to be one of the deepest pumping oil wells in the country.

DRILL BIT GOES DEEPER

As the oil industry continues to search for more reserves the drill bit goes deeper. Ten years ago the 12,000 foot test drew wide attention. Today they have to get below 15,000 feet to create interest as a real deep venture; and oil men predict that in the not too distant future producing wells below 15,000 feet will be commonplace.

With the country again fighting a war the need for finding more oil reserves becomes more important and the search for new producing horizons could well see a drill bit punching to 4 miles below the surface.

With the way things are going,

it could happen here—in Mississippi!

NSLI DIVIDED FOR 1951

Officials of the VA already are making plans for the second

National service Life Insurance dividend in 1951. The dividend next year will cover a three-year period, extending from the cut-off date of the current dividend in 1948 through the anniversary date of the policy in 1951.

Expired or lapsed policies will not share in the future dividends of the surplus. Only those policies extending beyond the 1948 anniversary date will get a share

next year.

After the 1951 distribution, it is anticipated that the NSLI fund will become stabilized and that future dividends, if any, will be paid on an annual basis.

The amount of next year's dividend will depend, naturally, on the death rate for the period.

It has been pointed out, for example, that a severe epidemic with high mortality could quickly deplete the surplus. However, if the mortality rate is average, or lower, it is estimated that the COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Now's The Time To Apply Fertilizer And Minerals

By HOWARD SIMMONS

This is a good time to apply fertilizer and minerals—one of the most important pasture practices—to pastures.

Test the soil to find out how much minerals to use, but do not leave minerals off if the soil is not tested. Areas which were once mineralized, but where the minerals have played out, should be mineralized at this time. A good top dressing of minerals and a light disk will often bring back the clovers without any seeding.

Use all P.M.A. assistance available, and give the pasture its share.

Preparation to help prevent bloat next spring will have to start now if much is to be done.

One way to help control bloat is to sow rye grass or clover sods where the grass is thin. Another way is to plant rye grass or rye alone to be mowed next spring back on clover areas.

Bloating is serious, and the cause is usually covers growing alone. Farmers who have a 50-50 mixture of grass and clover have very little trouble with bloat.

FARM OUTLOOK CHANGES

American agriculture is in a good position to meet the situation of a nation fast entering a war preparation economy.

DRAFT LAW IN EFFECT

The new Selective Service Act (draft act) approved by Congress last week in June is explained below:

It will remain law until July 9, 1951. It is the same draft law which has been in effect since 1948 EXCEPT for a couple of changes.

The new laws means:

1. Every youth must register with his local draft board, or a place designated by it, within 5 days after reaching his 18th birthday—but he can't be drafted until he is 19.

2. Every youth between 19 and 26—and all between those ages must be registered—can be drafted into the armed forces for 21 months' service unless deferred or exempted for one reason or another.

Some will be exempted from the draft because they are:

1. Ministers and students studying for the ministry.

2. Physically, mentally, and morally unfit.

3. Aliens who have not declared themselves interested in becoming citizens.

4. State governors or others elected by the people of an entire state; members of Congress and legislatures; state and federal judges.

5. Sole surviving sons of families which lost one or more members due to service in the armed forces.

6. Conscientious objectors who say, because of their religious beliefs, they can't perform any kind of military service, combat or non-combat. They will have to prove this to the draft board's satisfaction.

7. Youths now in the armed forces. Since they are already in military service.

8. War veterans who served in the armed forces in excess of 90 days between December 7, 1941 and September 12, 1945.

9. Service veterans who served 12 months between September 16, 1940 and June 24, 1948, when this draft law first went into effect.

In addition: Anyone reaching age 26 is exempt from the draft since only those under 26 can be drafted under the law.

There are other youths who can get deferment from induction for various reasons. (Under the law an exempted person cannot be drafted. But a deferred person is one who is kept out of the draft only for the period of such deferment.)

DEFERMENTS

1. Youths who are in important farm work or some occupation considered necessary to the national health, safety or interest and cannot be replaced.

THE HIGHWAY PATROL

The men in the Highway Patrol will be working around the clock during this period in an effort to make this a Deathless Holiday Period, and to help each of you to live longer. To everyone of you hundreds of members of our Safety Council we urge you to ask your neighbors to Drive and Walk safely.

A few tips to Drivers and Pedestrians alike from Birdsong-Hicks and Windham:

A FEW SAFETY TIPS

1. Start early and obey all Traffic laws, especially speed, Reckless Driving-Running Stop Signs.

2. If you Drink don't Drive and of course, if you Drive Don't Drink.

3. Mothers and Dads watch the Kiddies and don't let them get in front of cars, and of course, Drivers watch for the Kids. Let's not hurt them.

The Highway Patrol and the Mississippi Safety Council are doing their part. Mr. and John J. Public will you do yours?

Traffic accidents are up 45% or 82 lives over last year. The goal of the department is to save 82 lives in 5 months. Can they do it? The answer is up to you.
